Dear Roena,

Thank you for the nice package of gene material and lovely pictures. It is all very appreciated & I haven't digested it all yet but I am working on it right now.

I finally finished filing all my data from I.S.C. two years ago and now I'm working on the packages of gene material from various cousins.

We are going to I.S.C. for two weeks in Nov (9-23) & I wish you could join us this time. We haven't seen you for quite awhile. I hope to get everything put away before I go and bring home a new stock of stuff.

The weather has been just perfect this summer and so we haven't really worked much on gene. I am happy to have all the material so I can get back to the family history. I am still taking long lessons and getting better & hope.

Love Caroline

He married SARAH ANN FULKERSON 27 Jun 1855 in Williams Co. OH, daughter of JOHN FULKERSON and CLARISSA TRUCKS. She was born 21 Jul 1838 in Richland Co. Notes for WILLIAM YOUNG FICKLE

William Young FICKLE was born of Isaac Hedge and Nancy (YOUNG) FICKLE, November 26, 1826 in Crawford County, Ohio. Not caring for farm life he chose to become a physician and studied under Dr. Curtis, and Dr. Cook, eminent physicians of the time.

He married Sarah Ann FULKERSON, daughter of John Jasper and Clarissa (TRUX) FULKERSON, on June 27, 1855 in Williams County, Ohio. They had four children, their first being a son, William Irving Morse born in Pulaski, Williams County, Ohio, April 2, 1856 and a daughter, Evelyn A. born also in Pulaski, Ohio, March 21, 1858.

In May 1860 Dr. Fickle and his family embarked from Sidney, Fremont County, Iowa, along with his brother-in-law, John Trux FULKERSON, to cross the plains to California. As other families joined the wagon train there were about a hundred families traveling together. Their third child, a son, Alva Wooster, was born in or near Willow Springs, Salt Spring Valley, Utah Territory, August 30, 1860. Dr. Fickle and his family arrived in and terminated their trek at Mokelumne City, California, October 30. (Mokelumne City was located at the northern part of San Joaquin County, California.)

It was believed Dr. Fickle stayed in Sacramento about five years as a physician, then moved up to Seattle in 1866. However, records indicate their fourth child, a daughter, Nancy Clarissa, was born February 9, 1863, in Lincoln, Placer County, California. His health not being too good in Seattle, they moved to Arcata, Humboldt County, California., where he followed his doctoring profession for many years. The Humboldt Times is quoted September 7, 1867, "Dr. William Y. Fickle - Botanic Family Physician. Mrs. Fickle will attend to all cases of obstetrics. Reference, Professor W. H. Cook, Cincinnati."

In 1876, Dr. Fickle with his son, Alva, established a Shingle Mill at the head of Sharp's Slough near Arcata. The Mill was moved in 1881 to an area about two miles east of Arcata on their timbered claim. The mill on which the Mill was built became known as Fickle Hill. In the late 1890s the depression and hard times took its toll and the Shingle Mill was closed.

In his later years he moved to San Luis Obispo County, California where he had a farm and engaged in dairy farming until 1907. Dr. Fickle and his wife, Sarah, returned to Humboldt County. They took up residence with their daughter Eva A. Fickle GREENWOOD in Blue Lake, California. Sarah Ann FICKLE died February 12, 1909 and Dr. William Young FICKLE died January 13, 1917. They are both buried in the Blue Lake Cemetery, Blue Lake, California. He was a member of the Blue Lake Odd Fellows Lodge and his pal bearers were members of the Lodge.

We have no information concerning his nationality; however, family tradition says he was from the Palatinate, while others say he was from Holland.

Michael settled near Slaymaker Town at Gap, PA. He married Margaret Schleiermacher/Slaymaker.

We would appreciate any information you could provide regarding his origin.

What strategy could we pursue to continue our search?

Abercrombie, 1743-1754. Three captains crossed five times, two captains four times, thirteen captains three times and twenty twice.

Some of these captains were reputed to be cruel and inhuman masters. Governor Gordon refers in one of his letters to the "horrid barbarity, with which the passengers were treated," by one captain, while the passengers themselves called him "a wicked murderer of souls."²² But others were known as kind and considerate. Christopher Schultze, who came on the ship Saint Andrew, landing at Philadelphia, September 12, 1734, wrote of the captain, John Steadman: "We had a very good captain, who kept strictly to his contract, and very able sailors, who had very much patience with us."²³

JOURNEY TO PENNSYLVANIA

The journey to Pennsylvania fell naturally into three parts. The first part, and by no means the easiest, was the journey down the Rhine to Rotterdam or some other port. Gottlieb Mittelberger in his Journey to Pennsylvania in the year 1750, writes:²⁴

"This journey lasts from the beginning of May to the end of October, fully half a year, amid such hardships as no one is able to describe adequately with their misery. The cause is because the Rhine boats from Heilbronn to Holland have to pass by 26 custom houses, at all of which the ships are examined, which is done when it suits the convenience of the custom-house officials. In the meantime the ships with the people are detained long, so that the passengers have to spend much money. The trip down the Rhine lasts therefore four, five and even six weeks. When the ships come to Holland, they are detained there likewise five to six weeks. Because things are very dear there, the poor people have to spend nearly all they have during that time."

The second stage of the journey was from Rotterdam to one of the English ports. Most of the ships called at Cowes, on the Isle of Wight. This was the favorite stopping place, as 142 ships are recorded as having sailed from Rotterdam to Cowes. Other ships touched at one of seven other channel ports. Taking them from east to west they were: Deal, where twenty-two ships stopped, Dover, with eleven ships, Portsmouth thirty-two ships, Gosport, near Portsmouth, two ships, Poole in Dorsetshire, one ship (No. 109), Plymouth two ships, Falmouth, in Cornwall, four ships. One ship (No. 297) went from Rotterdam to London, one ship (No. 263) from Rotterdam to Berwick upon Tweed, on the east coast of England, near the Scotch border, five ships from Rotterdam to Leith in Scotland, two ships from Rotterdam to the Orkney islands (Nos. 110, 163) and one ship from Rotterdam to St. Christopher, one of the West India islands.

Another harbor in Holland, which was frequently used as a starting point for the ocean journey was Amsterdam. From there two ships went to Dover, two to Portsmouth, two to Gosport, three to Cowes, one to Tingenmouth (now Teignmouth) in Devonshire, one to Shields, on the east coast of England and one to Aberdeen.

Beginning with the year 1752, nine ships started in various years from Hamburg, Germany, and from there went either to Cowes or to Plymouth. No less than thirty-one ships came directly from London to Philadelphia. From 1766 to 1775, ten ships started from Lisbon, Portugal, while two ships are listed as coming from Boston and one from South Carolina to Philadelphia.

In England there was another delay of one to two weeks, when the ships were waiting either to be passed through the custom house or waiting for favorable winds. When the ships had for the last time weighed their anchors at Cowes or some other port in England, then, writes Mittelberger, "the real misery begins with the long voyage. For from there the ships, unless they have good wind, must often sail eight, nine, ten to twelve weeks before they reach Philadelphia. But even with the best wind the voyage lasts seven weeks."

The third stage of the journey, or the ocean voyage proper, was marked by much suffering and hardship. The passengers being packed densely, like herrings, as Mittelberger describes it, without proper food and water, were soon subject to all sorts of diseases, such as dysentery, scurvy, typhoid and small-pox. Children were the first to be attacked and died in large numbers. Mittelberger reports the deaths of thirty-two children on his ship. Of the heartless cruelty practised he gives the following example: "One day, just as we had a heavy gale, a woman in our ship, who was to give birth and could not under the circumstances of the storm, was pushed through the port-hole and dropped into the sea, because she was far in the rear of the ship and could not be brought forward."

The terrors of disease, brought about to a large extent by poor food and lack of good drinking water, were much aggravated by frequent storms through which ships and passengers had to pass. "The misery reaches the climax when a gale rages for two or three nights and days, so that every one believes that the ship will go to the bottom with all human beings on board. In such a visitation the people cry and pray most piteously. When in such a gale the sea rages and surges, so that the waves rise often like mountains one above the other, and often tumble over the ship, so that one fears to go down with the ship; when the ship is constantly tossed from side to side by the storm and waves, so that no one can either walk, or sit, or lie, and the closely packed people in the berths are thereby tumbled over each other, both the sick and the well—it will be readily understood that many of these people, none of whom had been prepared for hardships, suffer so terribly from them that they do not survive."²⁵

When at last the Delaware River was reached and the City of Brotherly Love hove in sight, where all their miseries were to end, another delay occurred. A health officer visited the ship and, if any persons with infectious diseases were discovered on the ship, it was ordered to remove one mile from the city. As early as 1718, Dr. Thomas Graeme was appointed to visit and report on all incoming vessels. But no reports from him are on record until the year 1738. On September 14, 1738, Governor George Thomas laid before the Board the reports of Dr. Graeme, "setting forth the condition of four ships lately arrived here from Rotterdam and Amsterdam; And it being observed from one of the said reports that were the Passengers on Board the ships Nancy and Friendship allowed to be immediately landed, it might prove dangerous to the health of the Inhabitants of this Province and City, It is Ordered that the Masters of the said Ships be taken into Custody for their Contempt of the Governour's Order, signified to them by Thos. Glenworth, pursuant to a Law of this Province, to remove to the Distance of one Mile from this City, and that they shall remain in Custody till they shall give security in the sum of Five Hundred Pounds each, to obey the said Order, and not to land any of their passengers Baggage, or Goods, till the Passengers shall have been viewed and Examined, and untill they shall receive a Licence from the Governor for so doing." ²⁶

The Governor urged at this time that a hospital be erected for sick passengers, but the Assembly refused to act until an epidemic broke out in the city of Philadelphia. Then the Assembly voted to buy Fisher Island, at the junction of the Schuylkill with the Delaware. The island was bought in 1743. On February 3, 1743, Governor Thomas approved a bill, ²⁷ passed by the Assembly, for the purchase of this island of three hundred and forty-two acres, with the buildings on it, to be used for a hospital. The name of the island was changed to Province Island, and as such it appears on the map of Philadelphia, which we present. The erection of an adequate hospital was, however, delayed until the year 1750.

How serious conditions were and how many of the sick passengers died, after being brought to Province Island, appears from a statement of Jacob Shoemaker, an undertaker, which he handed in to the Council on November 14, 1754:

²⁸ Preserved with the ship-lists of the year 1754. The persons for whom the passengers were buried were the Philadelphia merchants, to whom they were consigned.

A vivid account of the arrival of these passenger ships in the harbor of Philadelphia, is given by the Rev. Henry M. Muehlenberg, in a report, which he sent to Halle in the year 1769. He writes: ²⁹

"After much delay one ship after another arrives in the harbor of Philadelphia, when the rough and severe winter is before the door. One or more merchants receive the lists of the freights and the agreement which the emigrants have signed with their own hand in Holland, together with the bills for their travel down the Rhine and the advances of the 'new-landers' for provisions, which they received on the ships on account. Formerly the freight for a single person was six to ten louis d'ors, but now it amounts to fourteen to seventeen louis d'ors.³⁰ Before the ship is allowed to cast anchor at the harbor front, the passengers are all examined, according to the law in force, by a physician, as to whether any contagious disease exists among them. Then the new arrivals are led in procession to the City Hall and there they must render the oath of allegiance to the king of Great Britain. After that they are brought back to the ship. Then announcements are printed in the newspapers, stating how many of the new arrivals are to be sold. Those who have money are released. Whoever has well-to-do friends seeks a loan from them to pay the passage, but there are only a few who succeed. The ship becomes the market-place. The buyers make their choice among the arrivals and bargain with them for a certain number of years and days. They then take them to the merchant, pay their passage and their other debts and receive from the government authorities a written document, which makes the newcomers their property for a definite period."

When we examine the dates of arrival of the ships, we note that the large majority of them arrived in the fall. In August twenty-nine, in September one hundred and thirty-eight, in October eighty-six, in November thirty-three and in December fourteen. In none of the other months did the totals exceed five ships for each month. Muehlenberg was, therefore, entirely correct when he stated that most of the ships reached ³⁰ The equivalent of the louis d'or is about $4.50, though its purchasing power at that time was much greater.

Philadelphia when the hardships of winter were staring the newcomers in the face.

But, in spite of all difficulties and hardships, new settlers continued to come. The wonder is not that so many succumbed, but that so many faced all hardships uncomplainingly and after a few years of service emerged from all difficulties as successful farmers, who made the country blossom as a rose. It only shows of what sturdy stuff these pioneers were made. Modern historians describing their hardships do, no doubt, more complaining than they themselves ever did.

Among the interesting documents, brought to Pennsylvania by the German pioneers, two deserve special mention.

The first was a passport, with which all the emigrants coming from Germany and Switzerland were supposed to be provided. One of these passports, of which we present a facsimile, reads as follows:

"We, the Burgomaster and Council of the city of Chur [Choire] in the Canton of the Grisons, confess herewith that, through the grace of God, we enjoy at present in our city and neighboring places, a good, healthy and pure air and that no dangerous plague or infectious disease prevails.

"In testimony whereof the bearer of this, Mr. Andrew Loretz, a citizen here, and single, who intends to travel to Amsterdam, for purposes of business, has been given this certificate, provided with the seal of our chancery, so that he may pass and repass at all places, freely and unimpeded.

"Given the 8th of September 1784.

{ Certified
 Seal }
 { Chancery of Chur."

The second document, which was taken along on the journey to America, was a letter of recommendation, issued by the pastor of the church to the members of his flock, when they left their homes. One of these letters of recommendation, which has survived, and of which we present also a facsimile, reads as follows:

"The bearer of this letter, John Michael Paulus,³¹ hitherto a member of our congregation at Essenheim and Catharine, his lawful wife, both members of our Church, Reformed according to the Word of God, are willing and have the intention, in the name of God, to undertake the journey to the American Colonies, belonging to England, that they may find there a more abundant livelihood. They are herewith commended, upon their difficult and dangerous journey, to the protection of the Almighty, the love of our faithful Savior Jesus Christ and the communion of the Holy Spirit, to keep them in body and soul. I recommend them faithfully to all ecclesiastical and secular authorities, as well as to the Christian and charitable consideration of every person.

"Given at Essenheim in the Electoral Palatinate, near the city of Mayence, May 2, 1742.

"J. Radernher, pastor of the Reformed Church here."

What makes this certificate of special interest is the fact that Mr. Paulus was one of the fellow-passengers of John Andrew Strassburger, when he came to Pennsylvania on the ship Loyal Judith, which landed at Philadelphia September 3, 1742.

PUBLICATION OF THE SHIP LISTS

There is still one more question to be discussed—the relation of this publication to the earlier editions of these lists. What is it that justifies the present publication?

Reference has already been made to the fact that the oath of allegiance as well as the oath of abjuration were signed in the Court House at Philadelphia. Hence, the Clerk of Council copied the signatures to the oath of allegiance into the minutes of the Council. In this way the first forty-three lists, from September 18, 1727, to October 19, 1736, found their way into the minutes of the Council. They were published by the State of Pennsylvania in 1852, under the title Colonial Records. The lists appear in Vols. III–IV of these records.

It was most likely this publication in the Colonial Records that drew the attention of I. Daniel Rupp, the well-known historian of Pennsylvania to the lists. At any rate, in 1856, he published a book, entitled A Collection of Thirty Thousand Names of German, Swiss, Dutch, French and Other Immigrants in Pennsylvania from 1727 to 1776, etc. It contained the names of all the males of sixteen years and upwards, in the body of the book, the children's names being given in an appendix. In 1875 and later, other editions appeared, which Rupp calls "carefully revised and much improved." The improvement consisted in the fact that the names of the children under sixteen years were inserted, in the case of each ship, with which children are given, immediately under the names of the adults. Rupp also added sixteen appendices and an "Interpretation of the Baptismal Names."

There are two main criticisms to be made of the publication of Rupp. In the first place, he was too arbitrary in his treatment of the lists. In not one case did he reproduce the lists exactly as he found them in the originals, but he radically changed the lists in everything that allowed of change. He changed the headings, he changed the arrangement of the names and he changed the spelling of the names. Secondly, he misread hundreds of names.

The headings were made up by Rupp from the Colonial Records, or condensed from the actual headings as found on the lists. In this attempt to condense many slips were made, only a few of which need to be mentioned, by way of example. Occasionally he omitted the name of the ship. Thus in No. 43, he states that 110 persons were imported in the brigantine Perthamboy, which should be, in the brigantine John, of Perthamboy. In list 141, he omits both the name of the ship as well as the captain, the ship was Lydia and the captain John Randolph (See our No. 142).

More frequently he misreads the names of the ships. Richmond and Elizabeth (No. 33) should be Richard and Elizabeth. Virginus Grace (No. 46) should be Virtuous Grace. The name of ship No. 58 should not be Nancy and Friendship, but Friendship; while the name Nancy belongs to No. 59. The ship Bawley, No. 188, should be the ship Rawley, see our list, No. 191. Robert and Oliver (No. 55) should be Robert and Alice. Instead of Morton Star (No. 296) we should read Morning Star (see our list, No. 301).

A number of captains' names are also misread and misprinted. Thomas Arnt should be Thomas Arnot, William McNair should read William Muir, Captain Lickey should be changed to Captain Lickley.

The dates of the ships are frequently misprinted: October 25, 1748 (No. 123) should be August 24, 1749 (see our No. 124). September 17, 1750 (No. 156) should be October 17, 1750 (our No. 158). For Jan. 23, 1767 (No. 258) read Jan.

13, 1767 (our No. 263). October 30, 1770 (List 277) should be October 3, 1770 (our No. 282). Instead of June 21, 1774 (No. 314) read Sept. 29, 1774 (our No. 319).

Even worse than this is the fact that Rupp dropped occasionally the whole of the heading and thereby merged two passenger lists into one. Thus list 148 (our list 149), dated August 15, 1750, giving the passengers of the ship Royal Union, extends in Rupp's book to the second column of p. 230.³² With the name Jacob Crebler a new list, our list 150 C, begins, which contains the passengers of the ship St. Andrew. They arrived on the same date, August 15, 1750.

In Rupp's list, No. 159, dated August 26, 1751, two lists have been merged, by dropping out several pages of manuscript. What Rupp prints is the first part of the passengers of the ship Anderson, and on p. 247, beginning with Michael Barle, the last part of the passengers of the ship Elizabeth (see our No. 162 C). He also overlooked our list, No. 84, although it is found in three forms (No. 84 A, B and C), and he omitted two later lists, No. 229 A and 233 A, as printed in our edition.

Another objectionable feature of Rupp's lists is that he rearranged the names in all the lists. Instead of following the order of the names as given on the originals, he rearranged them, apparently without any order and plan. In some of the lists, as for example on pp. 188-189, he printed the short names first, and placed the long names, consisting of three elements, at the end. As a result, it is difficult to identify his lists, when we compare them with the originals.

The order of the names was often of great significance and importance. In many cases the Palatines came over in colonies, with their leader at the head of the list. This is the case in the very first list, headed by the Rev. G. M. Weis, a German Reformed minister. We know definitely from his ordination certificate that he was the leader of this colony of Palatines.³³ The two important Lutheran ministers, John Caspar Stoever, father and son, head the eighth list, dated September 11, 1728. Rupp puts their names near the end of the list. The tenth list, dated September 11, 1729, is headed by Alexander Mack, Sr.,

³² We are quoting the second edition, first published in 1875.

³³ This certificate is printed in the writer's History of the Goshenhoppen Charge, p. 36f.

the leader of this Dunker colony. Rupp puts his name in 14th place. The sixteenth list, dated September 21, 1731, is headed in the original by the Rev. John Bartholomew Rieger. We have definite proof that he came to Pennsylvania at the head of a colony. Rupp gives his name the 36th place in his list. The Lutheran minister, Rev. John Christian Schultz, heads list No. 24. Rupp apparently thought this of no importance, for he puts his name in the 17th place. The sum total of all his rearrangements is, that he has obscured many important historical facts, which lie buried in his lists.

The most serious criticism of Rupp's book, is however, that in literally hundreds of cases he failed to decipher the names correctly. It is, of course, true that in some cases no man living can decipher with certainty the awful scribbles of some of the writers. But, when there are several lists of a ship, we can secure much better results by a comparative study of the lists, which Rupp entirely neglected. He has not even copied the baptismal names as he found them in the originals, but substituted in most cases the modern spelling. Moreover, his placing of the sick people at the end of the lists is arbitrary. In the originals they are scattered through the lists.

This careful analysis shows how sadly defective and imperfect is the edition of Rupp. No wonder the State of Pennsylvania felt that these lists should be published in a more complete and perfect form. They were issued in 1890, under the editorship of Dr. William H. Egle, as Vol. XVII of the second series of the Pennsylvania Archives. This publication excelled the book of Rupp in completeness. First of all, it added the captains' lists. It is true, not all of them were printed, for out of the 138 captains' lists, which have survived, only 97 appeared in print. Besides, in some cases, as in lists Nos. 1, 58, 60, 61 and 84, the captains' lists were substituted in place of the other lists, although this is not stated by the editor. Thus, the very first list in Vol. XVII of the Archives is the captain's list, while the actual signatures were omitted, much to the mystification of the student, who wonders what has become of the list which Rupp gives as his first list.

Another evidence of the more complete form, in which the lists are found in this edition, is the fact that the later lists, from 1786 to 1808, were included. This has added thousands of names to those of Rupp. But not all of the later lists were printed. For some reason which is not apparent all the lists of the years 1785, 1791 and 1792 were overlooked, so that our edition contains about forty new lists, from 1785 to 1808, which are not found in the Archives.

Unfortunately Dr. Egle, who was a good historian but no German scholar, was compelled to take over the names as printed by Rupp, with all their mistakes, except that he corrected most of the headings. In view of these facts, which can easily be verified by any one, qualified to read the originals, we must conclude that the former publications of these lists contain many grave defects, which seriously impair their usefulness. There has been, therefore, a long and persistent demand for a more accurate publication. This demand the present publication seeks to meet.

This new edition has two main objectives. First of all, it aims to present all the lists that are now in existence in full, without any change or abbreviation. There are at present, from 1727 to 1775 three hundred and twenty-four lists in the archives of the State of Pennsylvania. From 1785 to 1808, the number is one hundred and eighty-two. In the first period there are three kinds of lists, as we have seen. These have been distinguished as follows:

1. The captains' lists, marked A.
2. The signers of the oath of allegiance, marked B.
3. The signers of the oath of abjuration, marked C.

In order to present all the evidence now available regarding these lists, extracts from the minutes of the Provincial Council have been added, in the case of the first forty-three lists. In addition, the reports of the health officers on the condition of the health of the passengers are now given for the first time. There are thirty-one such health-certificates, two in 1741 and twenty-nine from 1753 to 1755. Finally, in the notes, the editor has identified quite a number of the passengers. As his studies have been confined principally to the history of the Reformed and Lutheran churches in Pennsylvania, these notes mention only Reformed and Lutheran leaders. There are hundreds of other names that can easily be identified. But that task has been left to later investigators.

In the second place, this new edition aims to justify its existence by greater accuracy in reproducing the lists. This we aim to do by printing the names in the exact order as found in the originals. The printed book is meant to offer as exact a transcript of the lists as can be made, with the exception of some details, as will appear in the following rules, which have been observed in editing the text:

1. The lists have been numbered by the editor, the numbers being placed in square brackets.

2. Most of the lists have headings in the originals. But when no heading was given, the editor has added a heading, enclosed in square brackets.

3. The headings of the lists are unpunctuated in the originals. Punctuation marks have been added by the editor.

4. In many of the captains' lists, the names are numbered. These numbers have been omitted.

5. Unusual arrangements of the names in the captains' lists have been disregarded. The names have been printed in the usual arrangement.

6. Capital letters have been substituted for all small letters used to begin Christian names as well as surnames.

7. The surnames have always been spelled as in the originals. Only in a few cases has the correct spelling been added by the editor in square brackets.

8. Names that are spelled wrong have not been corrected, even though the error appeared plainly through the other lists.

9. The phrase "Sick on board" is always given in the correct English spelling, instead of the many varying spellings that occur on the originals. They can be seen on the facsimiles.

10. Other phrases, as "der Alt" or "der Jung," have been changed to the corresponding English "Senior" and "Junior."

11. Initials and marks of persons who could not write have been enclosed in round brackets (), to distinguish them from the signature made by the clerk.

12. The phrase "his mark" which often accompanies the mark made by the signer, has always been omitted, as its insertion between the lines would have disfigured the text.

13. Many of the curious and strange marks of the signers have not been imitated, but ordinary marks have been substituted. The original marks can be seen on the facsimiles.

14. The line, placed by many signers above their "m" or "n" to indicate that they are to be doubled, has not been inserted, but instead the letters have been doubled.

The main emphasis of the editor has been laid throughout upon the proper decipherment of the names of the passengers. Wherever there was more than one list of a ship, the names on the different lists have been carefully compared. From this comparative study of the lists, many new and better readings have been obtained. There are, however, many names which defy all pain and patience to read them correctly. In these cases a question mark, enclosed in square brackets, indicates the uncertainty in the reading.

But the chief distinction of the present edition is the fact that all the lists of signatures are reproduced in facsimiles in Vol. II. These facsimiles comprise all the signatures on the B and the C lists. The captains' lists have been omitted, as they are written in English characters. These facsimiles will enable the student who can read the German script to test the accuracy of the decipherment. It is this feature of the new edition, which will give it permanent value and importance.

This fine result could not have been secured without the whole-hearted co-operation of the authorities of the Pennsylvania State Library and Archives, Captain Frederic A. Godcharles, the Director of the State Library and Dr. Hiram H. Shenk, the State Archivist, who supplied most cheerfully photostats for all the lists and information, whenever it was needed. The editor wishes to thank them heartily for all their valued assistance, without which the lists could not have been printed.

Other persons who gave assistance in this work were Mr. H. S. Borneman, the Secretary of the Society, who gave his wholehearted support to the work, Mr. H. W. Kriebel of Pennsburg, Pa., who prepared the first copies of the lists, Mr. Frederick S. Fox, who acted as representative of Mr. Strassburger, and finally Mr. Strassburger himself, who has shouldered the large, financial burden, to make this edition a reality.

History of the Slaymaker Family. Compiled by Henry Cochran Slaymaker 1909. Revised by Clyde L. Groff and Samuel R. Slaymaker, II, 1969. (Lancaster, Pa.: Lancaster Press, Inc., 1970. ix, 325 p. Coat of arms, facsimiles, photographs, maps. $30.00.)

No doubt many descendants of Mathias Slaymaker will welcome this new edition of the long out-of-print Slaymaker family history. But many will be disappointed if they expect to find new data in it and all lines up-dated, for although efforts were made by the authors to contact known descendants, not all responded to inquiries sent them, nor was full use made of records currently available to the researcher.

The progenitor of this family, Mathias Slaymaker (originally Schleiermacher) is reported to have emigrated from Strasbourg to Pennsylvania about 1710, and settled in that part of present day Paradise Township (formerly part of Strasburg Township) in the Pequea Valley of Lancaster County. Regretably no evidence to support this claim, or to amplify the meager information in the 1909 edition about the progenitor has been included.

In his will, dated 25 November 1762 (and proved 18 December 1762), Mathias named his children as Lawrence, then deceased, his eldest son, daughters Margaret and Barbara, Mathias, John, Henry and Daniel, his youngest son. The descendants of most of these are treated in separate sections which repeat the format of the 1909 edition, including its outdated and unclear numbering system. As in the earlier edition, no attempt was made to trace descendants of Margaret Slaymaker, probably the eldest daughter, who was reported in the 1909 edition to have married Michael Fickel (and who is now known to have emigrated to Pennsylvania on the ship Hope Galley in 1734, and took up land immediately adjacent to Michael Slaymaker by warrant in 1736). And the descendants of Henry Slaymaker, the next to the youngest son, appear in two sections: Part I (pages 8-83), which is devoted to the successive Slaymaker owners of "White Chimneys," purchased by Henry in 1779, and now the ancestral home of the author, Samuel R. Slaymaker, II, and also in Part V, which gives the genealogical record of Henry's descendants. Part I is profusely illustrated with facsimiles of documents from the voluminous family records of the present owner, as well as with photographs of family portraits, some of which were reproduced in the 25 August 1967 issue of Life Magazine in the featured story of "White Chimneys." Part V, reproduced from the 1909 edition, duplicates the record as given in that edition, with only a few lines updated.

Following Part I and its history of "White Chimneys," Part II goes back in time to Lawrence Slaymaker, the eldest son who died about 1747, and reprints data from the 1909 edition. Descendants of Mathias Slaymaker, Jr. (1728-1804), the second son, are covered without updating in Part III. Part IV gives the descendants of John Slaymaker (1730-1796), and includes extensive updating. Part VI, covering the descendants of the youngest son Daniel (c. 1736-1799), who received the original homestead, includes some updated lines, while Part VII, listing the descendants of Anna Barbara (1726-1794), who married Hieronimus Eckman in 1744, repeats only the data in the 1909 edition.

While it is evident from the text that recourse was made to some early wills, tax lists, court and land records, none are identified precisely, and it is not always possible to tell whether the information has been merely repeated from the 1909 edition, or has been newly introduced. No solid picture arises of the lives of the children of the progenitor — where they lived, how they acquired land or what they did, all of which could have been culled from readily available sources, and introduced before the record of their children.

Unquestionably a tremendous amount of work has gone into the preparation of this new edition, but it remains a not too happy marriage of the history of a house and the genealogical record of a family which deserves a more comprehensive treatment. The lack of an index makes it a difficult work to use intelligently.

The book is available for sale from Clyde L. Groff, 713 Columbia Avenue, Lancaster, Pa., 17603.

HANNAH BENNER ROACH

A List of Alien Passengers, bonded from January 1, 1847, to January 1, 1851, for the use of the Overseers of the Poor in the Commonwealth, prepared under the direction of the Auditor of Accounts by J. B. Munroe, Superintendent of Alien Passengers for the Port of Boston. (Baltimore, Md.: The Genealogical Publishing Company, 1971. [Facsimile of the original Boston 1851 publication.] 99 p. $7.50.)

This very useful little book has long been unavailable. As stated "to the Overseers of the Poor of the Commonwealth" of Massachusetts by the Auditor, David Wilder, Jr. in his instructions (p. 3) the purpose of the book is to assist in the identification of indigents on public assistance, and in the completion of the necessary documents which must show name, age, birthplace, date of arrival in the state, and the time when the person's up-keep became chargeable to the Commonwealth.

The arrangement is columnar, with month, day and year of arrival on the left, followed by surname, given name, age, country of birth, and the name of the vessel on which the person arrived. Arrangement is roughly alphabetical, all surnames with the same initial letter being listed together in the order of the first letter of the given name.

To the genealogist this book is one more reminder of the tools that may be uncovered in state archives. Although developed for the assistance of the managers of alms houses, it will be clear that these records are primary keys for the identification of immigrants during this period. Probably only a very small proportion of those listed required assistance.

It is to be hoped that the Genealogical Publishing Company will be able to locate and republish more lists of this nature.

Strasburg Township lies a little to the south of central Lancaster County. The borough of Strasburg, in the northern sector of the township, is situated in a limestone valley through which flows the Pequea Creek. This area was settled by Swiss Mennonites who arrived in Pennsylvania in September, 1710, and a month later obtained warrants for land along the old Conestoga Road. These warrants were for Martin Kendig, Jacob Miller, Hans Herr, Hans Graeff, Christian Herr, Hans Funk, Martin and

Michael & Margaret (Slaymaker) Fickle
1709-1771 and their descendants

Michael Fickle was born ca 1709. at the age of 25 yrs. he immigrated to America in the year 1734. He arrived Philadelphia the 23rd day of Sept 1734 aboard the ship "Hope" (sometimes referred to as the "Hope Galley". The ships master being Daniel Reid. The ship sailed from Rotterdam and last from Cowes. The same day, the 23rd of Sept. 1734, 49 Palatinies, with their families making in all one hundred, twenty-seven persons, were qualified at the Court House in Phila. Present was the Honourable Lt. Gov., the Mayor of the City and others of the Magistracy.

Michael's wife was Margaret Slaymaker. She was the daughter of Mathias Slaymaker (Schliermacher) meaning awning and drapery maker. Mathias Slaymaker was born in Hesse Cassel, Germany. He moved to the city of Strasbourg, then part of the German Empire, in the Province of Alsace. His land 1,000 acres was purchased from the London Co. This land today (1986) is situated in the Piquette Valley of Lancaster Co., PA. In 1710 when it is said Mathias and his wife Catherine came to America. This was Chester Co and to become Lancaster in 1729. Mathias and Catherine had seven children, five sons and two daughters, Lawrence, Mathias II, John, Henry, Daniel, Margaret & Barbaras.

The 1909 History of the Slaymaker family states that daughter Margaret married Michael Fickel, many of whose descendants then lived in and near Carlisle, PA.

No evidence has been found to indicate whether the Fickle family and the Schliermacher family were acquainted before emigrating to America. ~~However, this could be investigated further.~~ It is not known ~~when~~ ^{where} Margaret and Michael were married. However, in 1736 Michael Fickle took up land immediately adjacent to Matthias Slaymaker. (see map attached). We have no record of the birth of their children. The information on the Slaymaker Family was found in Harrisburg State Library. Nov. 1985. The book purchased Feb. 1986. Six years later 1742 at the age of 33 Michael purchased 100 A. on a branch N. of Bermudian Creek adjoining Andrew Bowlinger's land, Lancaster Co., PA. In 1749 York Co. was carved from Lancaster.

Tax collector
in 1760

In 1759 at age 50 Michael was Constable, Shuntington Twp., York Co., PA. He was on the tax rolls in 1762.

Possibly it was at this time at age 54, Michael bought a tract of land called Brooks Discovery from Robert Miller, Frederick Co., Md., comprising 236 A.

Three years later on 7 May 1766 he purchased Point Lying from John Warger. Four years later on 20 Nov. 1770 Michael made his will and on 3 Jan 1771 his will was probated. He probably died on his plantation on Piney Creek Hundred.

His wife Margaret (Slaymaker) Fickle lived on making her will on Jan 1794 and probated 3 Apr. 1795. some twenty-five years after her husband Michael's decease.

It is not altogether clear about the number of children born to Margaret and Michael. Michael lists the following in his will:

- | | |
|-------------|---------------|
| 1. Gabriel | 12. Elizabeth |
| 2. Mary | |
| 3. Joseph | |
| 4. Matthias | |
| 5. Daniel | |
| 6. Benjamin | |
| 7. Isaac | |
| 8. Jonathan | |
| 9. Esther | |
| 10. Naomi | |
| 11. Rachel | |

His five youngest children being Benjamin, Isaac, Jonathan, Naomi & Rachel Twice he uses the phrase, "my eleven children." However before naming his eleven children, he leaves to "my beloved daughter Elizabeth the sum of 10 pounds common money."

He also uses the term, "my one wife" twice.

Margaret, in her will lists her children as follows:

- | | |
|---------------------------|-------------|
| 1. Gabriel | * 11 Rachel |
| 2. Mary Ann | |
| 3. Elizabeth Williams | |
| 4. Joseph | |
| 5. Matthias | |
| 6. Esther Wilson | |
| * 7. Benjamin | |
| * 8. Nabmy Baldwin | |
| * 9. Isaac | |
| * 10. Jonathan - deceased | |

Why Margaret did not include Daniel in her Will is not known.

The burial place of neither Michael nor Margaret has been located.

The following is the information to date on each of the sons and daughters of Michael and Margaret (Slaymaker) Fickle.

Michael and Margaret (Slaymaker) FICKLE

their descendants

Michael FICKLE was born ca 1709. At the age of twenty-five years he immigrated to America in the year 1734. He arrived in Philadelphia the 23rd day of Sept. 1734 aboard the ship "Hope" sometimes referred to as the "Hope Galley". The ships master being Daniel Reid. The ship sailed from Rotterdam and last from Cowes, England. The same day they landed, forty nine, with their families, making in all one hundred twenty-seven persons, were qualified at the court house in Philadelphia. Present were the Honorable Lt. Governor, the Mayor of the city and others of the Magistracy.

Michael's wife was Margaret (SLAYMAKER). She was the daughter of Matthias SLAYMAKER (SCHLIERMACHER) meaning awning and drapery maker. Matthias was born in Hesse Kassel, Germany. He moved to the city of Strasbourg, then part of the German Empire, in the Province of Alsace. His land of one thousand acres was purchased from the London Company. This land today (1986) is situated in the Pequea Valley of Lancaster County., PA. In 1710 when it is said Matthias and his wife Catherine came to America, this was Chester County and became Lancaster in 1729. Matthias and Catherine had seven children, five sons and two daughters; Lawrence, Matthias II, John, Henry, Daniel, Margaret and Barbara. The 1909 "History of the Slaymaker Family" compiled by Henry Cochran Slaymaker states that Margaret married Michael Fickle, many of whose descendants then lived near Carlisle, PA.

No evidence has been found to indicate whether the Fickle family and the Schliermacher family were acquainted before emigrating to America. It is not known when or where Margaret and Michael were married. However, in 1736 Michael Fickle took up land immediately adjacent to Matthias Slaymaker. (see map attached). We have no record of the birth of their children. The information on the Slaymaker Family was found in the Harrisburg State Library in Nov. 1985.

Six years after Michael purchased land next to the Slaymakers he purchased 100 A on a branch North of Bermudian Creed adjoining Andrew Bowlinger's land, Lancaster Co., PA. This purchase was in 1742 and he was then 33 years of age. In 1749 York Co. was carved from Lancaster and he then became a resident of York, Co.

In 1759 Michael was Constable, Huntington Twp. York Co. and in 1760 a Tax Collector. He was on the tax rolls in 1762.

Then at the age of 54 Michael moves on. He purchases a tract of land called Brooks Discovery from Robert Miller, Frederick Co., MD. This was 236 Acres and some where on Piney Creek. Three years later on 7 May 1766 he purchased 100 A. called Point Lying from John Harger.

By the fall of 1770 he was apparently in failing health. He made his will on the 20th of Nov. and it was probated on 3 Jan. 1771. He probably died on his plantation on Piney Creek Hundred.

His wife Margaret Slaymaker Fickle lived on making her will on 9 Jan. 1794 and probated 3 Apr. 1795 almost twenty-five years after her husband Michael's decease.

It is not altogether clear about the number of children born to Margaret and Michael. Michael lists the following in his will:

Gabriel	Isaac
Mary	Jonathan
Joseph	Esther
Matthias	Naomi
Daniel	Rachel
Benjamin	Elizabeth

This makes 12, yet he refers to his eleven children. He further states that his five youngest are Benjamin, Isaac, Jonathan, Naomi and Rachel. Twice he uses the phrase "my eleven children." However, before naming his eleven children he leaves to "my beloved daughter Elizabeth the sum of ten pounds common money. He also uses the term, "my one wife" twice.

Margaret in her will lists her children as follows:

Gabriel	Naomi Baldwin
Mary Dun/Dunn	Isaac
Elizabeth Williams	Jonathan - deceased
Joseph	Rachel
Mathias
Esther Wilson
Benjamin

Why Margaret did not include Daniel in her will is not known.

The burial place of neither Michael nor Margaret has been located.

The following is the information to date on each of the sons and daughters of Michael and Margaret (Slaymaker) Fickle.
